INFORMATION:

Artist Hometown: Pinole, CA

For Fans Of: GEORGE CARLIN, 90'S BAY AREA PUNK, FLESHIES/
BLATZ/GRAVY-TRAIN, WEIRD AL, DR DEMENTO

From the trash-strewn strip malls and refinery-blighted hills of the San Francisco Bay Area comes the legendary acoustic duo Bobby Joe Ebola and the Children MacNuggits. Since its inception in 1995, the band has infected the hearts and minds of thousands of audiences, with an unforgettable combination of scathing social satire, contagious songwriting, intense and unpredictable performances, and poop jokes. Armed with only a guitar and two voices, the band has become the go-to troubadours for hilarious post-apocalyptic advice.

¡Carmelita Sings!: Visions of a Rock Apocalypse, the dark and cerebral classic 2000 album, will now be reissued for the first time with its original 40 page art-book. In addition to the full-length, this brick of awesome features B-sides, an unreleased MacNuggit radio performance from 1999, and includes reprinted (still subversive) buttons and stickers from the tense and bygone era of the original release. 32 songs on the CD, plus a download code for another full-length worth of epic Bobby Joe Ebola gems!

The art book contains illustrations, paintings, collage and more from many artists including Jon Carling, Moses Saarni, Fermin Mata, Robert Eggplant (Absolutely Zippo/Blatz), Julia Booze, Dylan Blackthorn, Christopher Murdoch, Jason Chandler (The Frustrators), Baby Deer (Fleshies), Caoimhe Über Alles and even some crude doodles by the band members, along with new art inspired by the album's cataclysmic tone.

Marketing Points:

- The band members ran S.P.A.M. Records, a DIY collective which released over 100 records between 1996-2002, including the debut releases of bands such as Fleshies, Gravy Train!!!, Blast Rocks! and others. S.P.A.M. was also responsible for organizing Geekfest, a now-legendary series of free outdoor punk festivals in the 1990s.
- Occasional backup singer and 3rd member John "Geek" March Mink is also vocalist for Fleshies, Triclops!, and Street Eaters.
- Five full USA tours since 2010 alongside friends Lemuria, Mikey Erg, Screaming Females, The Frustrators, Emily's Army, Fleshies, The Phenomenauts and endless more.
- Friends and fans include members of Green Day and legendary radio host Dr. Demento.

For Fans Of:
Surf
Garage
Exotica
The Cramps

Creepxotica: {Kreep-za-ti-ka}, noun or adjective; having or causing a creeping sensation of the skin, as from horror or fear combined with the relaxing exotic sounds of the South-Pacific.

Enjoy a Margarita or Martini next to the pool while Creepxotica takes you on an exotic ride through time to the sun bleached sands of the Mexican Riviera, and to the cool ocean waters of the Polynesian Islands. The soothing sounds of the Vibes will calm your savage soul, while the reverberating guitar will hearken a time of lazy Saturday afternoons. The percussive musings will melt your inhibitions, as low, melodious, bass driven tones will cool your head on a hot August afternoon. So sit back and relax as you embark on a weekend in Tiki paradise with the new lounge sensation from Dionysus Records, Creepxotica!

(Shhh - don't tell anyone that Creepxotica is actually garage punk surf pranksters - The Creepy Creeps - the band that Robert Plant hand picked to open his SOCA Band of Joy shows!)

Marketing Points:

Limited edition four-song red vinyl 7" with free digital download code - it's got a big hole too and looks like a cool old record from the '60s!

INFORMATION:

Artist Hometown: Richmond, VA

Key Markets: San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Denver, Austin, Bay Area/West Coast, Richmond, VA

For Fans Of: Poison Idea, Jerry's Kids, Turbonegro, late 70's KBD

DRY SPELL's one of richmond, VA's hardest working Punk/HC bands at the moment, and this lp definetly shows them at their peak. Their previous 2 7"es were good, But this is EXCELLENT! Driving mid tempo punk to full on Hardcore with tune-age that immediately gets stuck in your head.

The best thing really about DRY SPELL is you can't pidgeon hole them into one genre of HC Punk or the other. You can hear influence from Feel the Darkness era Poison Idea, Mid Tempo parts of Jerry's Kids Is this my World and earlier, Maybe throw in some Turbonegro, some Late 70's KBD Punk and 70's Rock all at the same time. It's really for you to determine for yourself. To us the music should sell itself.

Marketing Points:

Solid punk/hardcore LP

INFORMATION:

Artist Hometown: Creepsylvania

Key Markets: Bay Area, LA, Texas

For Fans Of: Anthrax, Slayer, Man or Astroman

Creepsylvania's Ghoul have proven that thrash metal has stood the test of time and will not be stopped. Sick guitar riffs, catchy as hell, critical for moshing. Shouted group vocals and death metal growls and grunts. They don't stop there as they can turn up the reverb and belt out some killer surf jams. Don't get injured, killed or eaten, buy this CD. Live for metal, die for Ghoul!

TORNADO RIDER is a cello-led punk/metal ensemble whose unique sound leaves audiences feeling victorious, mischievous, and full of wonder. The band exists somewhere around the edges of Gogol Bordello and ACDC to make a sound that is chaotic, intense, and some would even say mystical. Truly, their live show is unlike any other and must be seen in order to fully grasp the Tornado Rider experience.

Marketing Points:

- Featuring the grammy nominated shredding cello playing of lead singer Rushad Eggleston
- CDs packaged in eco-friendly "Arigato Paks" folds out to reveal a map of the band's mystical land of Sneth, set of six post-cards, exclusive pin, lyrics, and original story by Eggleston
- Non-stop DIY touring phenomenon blowing minds of punks, burners, hippies and nerds worldwide since 2008
- Major draw at major festivals including Warped Tour, Burning Man, Magnolia, Springfest and Blackwater (FL), Sunsetstrip (CA), and Ness Creek (Canada)

Press Clippings:

These songs motivate and move you. These tunes are real. -Lowcard Magazine

The most innovative folk cellist in America. -The Boston Globe

Tornado Rider stole the show with a brand of music (and theater, really) we should probably call WTF-core (or whatever words describe this). More a cartoon character than a person, lead singer/cello shreddist Rushad Eggleston came onstage as if he had just won some sort of world championship, bouncing from stage left to stage right in striped pink and black spandex, no shirt and a locks of hair hidden underneath an elf hat. Eggleston subjugated a rapt and rapturous pit of an audience with a sound at turns proggy, new-grass, surf-rock, avant-polka, cello-metal, and much more. He spoke in muscular tongues, like a lutrador wrestler that just took his 100th hit of acid. Very San Francisco, these punk-herders. - San Francisco Chronicle

With cello strapped on and slung low across his shirtless torso à la Dee Dee Ramone, Sneth Goblin (aka Rushad Eggleston) of Tornado Rider rips through daft, distorted hot licks powered by a Marshall stack. This isn't some prog-rock peckerwood's yawninducing synthesis of classical and rock. The TR sound is a drunken sea shanty, an impish late-night jam session in the wilderness, a dosed-up band of renfaire jesters high on Four Loko and shrooms. - Missoula Independent
