For Fans of: BRYAN ADAMS, JOURNEY, DEF LEPPARD & DAUGHTRY

Originally released in 1994 on Swedish independent label, Empire Records, American singer/songwriter BRETT WALKER's debut Nevertheless impressively charted in Scandinavia's Top 40. BRETT WALKER, who was following up his chart success with ALIAS' Top 10 smash "Waiting For Love," delivered 12 tracks of surefire melodic rock magic. Besides once again flexing his own masterful writing muscle with single "Lecia" (which would crack the Top 10 in Europe), he found himself teaming up with industry heavyweights Jonathan Cain (JOURNEY, BAD ENGLISH), Jim Peterik (SURVIVOR), Stan Bush and Carl Dixon (CONEY HATCH) hoping to strike commercial gold once again. These partnerships proved extremely successful with tracks like "Bad Time For Goodbye," "More Than A Memory," "Hard To Find An Easy Way," and "Take Me Home" all becoming immediate fan favorites and remaining completely relevant in today's music market despite the passage of nearly 20 years. Nevertheless is a timeless album for a timeless style of American melodic rock.

Nevertheless has been unavailable since the mid-90s and this Divebomb Records edition features newly remastered audio, 2012 interview with BRETT WALKER conducted by LINE OF FIRE'S Shawn Pelata and personal photos from the album's recording sessions. For the fans, by the fans.

INFORMATION:

Artist Hometown: Philadelphia

Key Markets: Philadelphia, PA, Pittsburgh, Boston, Detroit, Baltimore

For Fans of: NEIL YOUNG & CRAZY HORSE, NEUROSIS, HANK WILLIAMS, CRUCIFUCKS and MELVINS

Formed in Philadelphia in early 2007, DANGERBIRD plays slow and heavy rock music that combines NEIL YOUNG riffage with post-SABBATH sludge. Their cavernous sound has evolved over three albums, beginning with their live-in-the-studio debut Homestead, released on SRA Records in 2009. On Homestead, the band displayed its dual proficiency in pummeling heft and subtle introspection through seven expansive tracks clocking in at a whopping 51 minutes. Their 2010 follow-up, Johnny, exhibits the group tightening its focus and increasing experimentation while remaining true to the mission. 2011's self-titled Dangerbird III marks the group's heaviest effort to date: the Russian cosmonaut and Mayan temple that adorn the album's packaging are telling portents of the riffs they accompany. In between, DANGERBIRD found time to release a split 7" with Philadelphia cohorts UGH GOD in 2010 and the Acoustic EP the following year. They also contributed to SRA Records' Four-Way Split CD by collaborating on five tracks with Jim McMonagle of the legendary Philly punk rock band FLAG OF DEMOCRACY.

Dangerbird is built around core members Bruce Howze (HULK SMASH), Joe Bats (PSYCHIC TEENS, WHAT HAPPENED?), Colin Smith (SERPENT THRONE, SLOW MOVER), Mouse Dascher (FIFTY DAYS AT ILIUM), Jeff Bowne (GUNNA VAHM), and Jason Bucci (ALISON RANGER, CIRCLE THE CITY). They have toured the United States extensively in a van fueled by vegetable oil.

For Fans of: Punk, Metal, Rock, MELVINS, NEUROSIS, YES, EMERSON LAKE & PALMER, CRASS, GOBLIN.

HULK SMASH is a two-piece band, a very loud two-piece band, and one of Philadelphia's best kept secrets. Using an 8-string bass, organ pedal board, midi controls, homemade electronic instruments, keyboards and drums, visually the duo can look like two separate one-man-bands. Tagged as electro-sludge, electro-punk and prog-doom the group has garnered comparisons to MELT BANANA, THE MELVINS and Amphetamine Reptile's (the label) glory days. The Hulk Smash Album is a fifty-minute eight-song enhanced CD with live video, mp3s, additional songs and live sets.

HULK SMASH formed in the fall of 2002 and immediately started touring as much as possible. By 2003 the band had fully developed its sound and was finally ready to record a full-length record, The Hulk Smash Album is the result of 18 months of dicking around in the studio and working on their sound. The work that went into this recording and the touring that came after it proved too much for this lineup and Matt left the band to pursue his other project MOSE GIGANTICUS. HULK SMASH lives on with Curt from UGH GOD and HEAVY MEDICAL now filling the stool.

Key Markets: Tallahassee, FL, Orlando, FL, Hong Kong, China

For Fans of: BLACK FLAG, DEAD KENNEDYS, MEAT PUPPETS, MINUTEMEN, BUDGIE, BUTTHOLE SURFERS

This is it. This is the point where East and West converge, where democracy and communism find a common ground. It's the entire social impact of punk rock in a nutshell. Orlando, FL's LIBYAN HIT SQUAD offer six songs of post-SST insanity, a mind-blowing prog-punk hybrid that recalls the wide-eyed paranoia of 80s hardcore ("Blown Asshole," "Rubber Shoes," "Brave New World," "Faulty Bridge") while achieving the lofty musical heights of THE MINUTEMEN and BLACK FLAG—especially BLACK FLAG, since their main songwriter and guitar maestro GREG GINN contributes his expertise on the centerpiece, "Full Circle," the be-all-end-all of punk instrumentals, a vociferous statement that simultaneously embraces the aesthetics of punk while eschewing the limiting confines set by its fashion-focused followers. "Lift Your Knees," a near 6-minute rant on sexual politics that echoes JANE'S ADDICTION, CAN, and MIKE WATT is the final word.

Across a continent and an ocean, Shanghai, China's ROUND EYE attack with a punk rock ferocity that melds modern post-punk a la THE FALL ("Round Eye," "Kenting"), with doo-wop ("I'm So Young") and 60s NUGGETS/STOOGES/MC5 angst ("Carne Seca"). The closing "Got Her Runnin'" brings it all to a head, where decades, styles and influences converge to bring a uniquely Eastern vision to Western rock'n'roll. This isn't punk rock for mohawks, nor is it easy listening indie rock for the hipster contingent. This is the future.

—Chuck Foster

INFORMATION:

Artist Hometown: Orlando, Florida

Key Markets: Tampa, FL, San Francisco, CA, Rochester, NY, Boston, MA, Amsterdam, Netherlands

For Fans of: BLACK FLAG, RAMONES, THE CURE, IGGY POP, BUZZCOCKS, THE REPLACEMENTS

RUNNAMUCKS Deficit of Dreams is an American odyssey, in subject matter as well as in the manner it was recorded. Production took place over three years and in as many states, though the liner notes claim it was "recorded on the 4th of July all across the U.S.A."

Across the many American Dreamscapes it inhabits, from a screaming street plagued by an "epidemic of insanity" (on the title track) to a gas station where its eternal attendant pounds beer in the cooler with an army of clones ("Suspended Animation"), the 'MUCKS don't so much condemn the Dream as demand a complete recall, invoking the listener to reevaluate their own ideas of the concept; TO DREAM BIGGER AND BETTER.

To achieve this musically, the 'MUCKS channel their classic American Punk influences like the RAMONES and BLACK FLAG but also introduce a new weapon in their sonic arsenal: Melody. Inspired by such pop masterminds as HARRY NILSSON, THE KINKS and THE CURE, they fuse their own abrasive brand of Hard Rock/Punk with the futuristic elements of the BUZZCOCKS, IGGY POP and HUSKER DU; the result is truly original, a sound the band has dubbed PANIC POP.

From the harmony-heavy stomp of "Symbiote Saga" and "Don't Cry About Me," to the triumphant Underdog-Rock battle-cry of "Validation" and "Failure #1," this new PANIC POP sound once again sets the 'MUCKS ahead of the pack. The epic culminates in "Times Two," when our heroes at last find their own revised vision of the Dream. Will you find yours? TAKE THE TRIP!

We saw SAM RUSSO'S greatness coming a mile away. Many bands touring over in the UK and Europe have witnessed first-hand his deep, rumbling ballads about destitution and triumph. Now we're aiming to bring this thoughtful balladeer to the rest of the world and it starts with his debut full length, Storm. Unlike the other guys going around singing their faux-heartfelt ditties, SAM is the real deal: part scumbag, part poet; and this plebeian bard has worked a million shitty jobs to back up his claim. For Fans of: THE MUSIC MACHINE,

THE MIRACLE WORKERS

In 1999 THE SATELLITERS cranked out an excellent long-player for Germany's Screaming Apple Records, containing 16 songs they recorded at IronBar Studios in Darmstadt with production assistance by Lolo Blumler and Toe-Rag, London with the legendary Liam Watson producing the UK sessions. This was their most pounding, roaring and authentic trip into US-American mid-sixties garage-punk up to date, mixing harp-driven punk-tunes, raving instrumentals and well-assorted cover-versions (BOB SEGER SYSTEM's "2 + 2 = ?", THE EVIL'S "Movin On" and THE REMAINS "Once Before"). Released on vinyl and CD, the record sold out fast after rave reviews in Rolling Stone, Visions, Spex and Ox. Now the vinyl version of this fine platter is available again through Dionysus Records/ USA - the official label of THE SATELLITERS since 1996!

...pure 1966 Garage - if you would write different band-names in front of each title you could sell this record easily as an archived never released Mindrocker #14, Nuggets #13 or Highs in the Mid-Sixties #24...

--Optical Sound No.4, Germany

...these guys from Darmstadt recorded the best garage-record up to date...

--SPEX No.4/00, Germany

...one of the best albums never released in the sixties..."I said Yeah, Yeah, Yeah"-rock'n'roll at its best! Just one question: who the fuck is Timothy Dee?

--Rolling Stone, No.3/2000, Germany

...one of the best European bands in this genre...finest authentic Sixties-Beat-Punk. Recorded in 1999 - unbelievable!

For Fans of: COCK SPARRER, COCKNEY REJECTS,
Hard Skin and Oi!

Number one in the Profane limited edition 45 series is THE SHAME is comprised of several old school punk rockers from the Midwestern plains of Tulsa, Oklahoma who grew up cutting their teeth in politically charged crust/thrash bands like BROTHER INFERIOR, BRING DOWN THE HAMMER, ASSEMBLY OF GOD. Their music was fast, aggressive and they wanted nothing more than to tear down the oppressive social systems and rebuild society brick by brick. This time around they have added a little more melody and the lyrical content tends to focus on the important things in life... BEER and FOOTBALL (the international kind). This 7" will really hit home for fans of early street punk and Oi! It's also a refreshing change of pace for fans of their earlier works that are use to these dudes playing at break neck speeds. It doesn't matter if you're into street punk, Oi!, thrash or crust his record is filled with anthems that the whole scene can drink-a-long to. So grab a pint with your mates, turn on the game and play this record as loud as you can. After all "The World Is Ours!" This is a limited edition record that comes in a variety of different colors.

The Fluid Soundbox, the second full-length album by Ernest Maeschi and Karen Diblitz a/k/a STEREOPHONIC SPACE SOUND UNLIMITED, is chock-full of '50s and '60s-inspired instrumentals, done with contemporary flair. Delving into the backgrounds and personal lives of the intensely private Maeschi and Diblitz was difficult, and to be honest, their lifestyles make them sound like international jet-setters. Karen Diblitz works for the European Formula One racing tour and travels the world while Ernest Maeschi seems to be unemployed but is able to purchase expensive musical instruments for his recording studio and travel the world at whim.

STEREOPHONIC SPACE SOUND UNLIMITED brings to mind '60-s and '70s soundtracks such as Jess Franco's Vampyros Lesbos: Sexadelic Dance Party soundtrack, espionage capers, or whimsical inner-movie travelogues of one kind or another. The 14 instrumentals vary from harder surf-alicious themes, sci-fi and space themes, mod go-go themes, and James Bond/spy themes, all the way down the proverbial ladder to the "softer" side, including exotica, lounge themes, and boogie-licious acid jazz (the original '70s acid jazz, not the stuff from the '90s). The Fluid Soundbox was originally issued in 1998 by the Orange County-based Dr. Dream's specialty Mai Tai label, but re-released on CD in 2001 (and now on vinyl in 2012) by Dionysus Records.

INFORMATION:

Key Markets: The World

For Fans of: EUROPE, HELIX, CINDERELLA, BRITNY FOX

Originally released in 1989 via Atlantic Records, VAMP's The Rich Don't Rock album should be held in the same regard as other classic hard rock albums of the era. Produced by Tony Platt (AC/DC, FOREIGNER) and stuffed to the rafters with arena-ready choruses, hooky guitars and Tom Bellini's ballsy vocals, The Rich Don't Rock was a creative triumph for the German group. But like the other artists we've made part of the Divebomb Records family, VAMP were victims of their record label's shortsightedness and their album went nowhere commercially.

Being the hard rock fiends we are, Divebomb Records has tracked down the members of VAMP and we've partnered with the band to bring The Rich Don't Rock back with the love and attention it deserves.

The Rich Don't Rock has been unavailable since the late '80s and this Divebomb Records Deluxe Edition features newly remastered band-supplied audio, 15 unreleased professional studio demos, 2012 interview with the entire band and archival live photos. For the fans, by the fans.
