ACROSS TUNDRAS was born on the Western High Prairie and has been sighted recently in the hills North of Nashville, TN. Countless, mysterious audio artifacts and sonic expeditions have been made by the un-herd collective since their inception in 2003. Both delighting and bewildering musical excavators who have encountered the aural, physical, and meta-evidence of this pastoral beast.

Hailing from the Midwest, LARK'S TONGUE formed in 2010 of seasoned travelers informed by all manners of cosmic pursuits. They conjure heavy, layered psychedelia with an emphasis on harmony and narrative, atop beguiling squalls of guitar, shimmering keys and a thick low end.

This split marks the coming together of two bands with different styles but similar influences, and will give the listener visions of Panoramic Country Crush, Cosmic Blues, Vintage Psychedelia, Terrestrial Drone, and Rural Heaviness. The finest dream is a siren song to suffer, illuminating the pathways where fear and bliss become one. What starts with pleasure endures in alarm, and only your eyes can look straight at the sun.

A special Record Store Day exclusive split 7" between these two Chicago metal bands. Both bands have been critically acclaimed in the extreme music communities and press. These songs are covers originally appearing on a compilation soundtrack CD for the book DTV written by Andrew Bonazelli of Decibel Magazine fame. That soundtrack had very limited distribution and went out of print quickly, so Init Records and the bands thought it would be cool to put these two covers on a limited 7" with new artwork by Stavros Giannopoulos (THE ATLAS MOTH), and put it out for a limited Record Store Day release. Pressed on color vinyl and limited to 500 copies total.

Marketing Points:

- A Record Store Day exclusive release! 7" vinyl is limited to 500 copies, all pressed on colored vinyl
- THE ATLAS MOTH and WOLVHAMMER are two of the most-hyped U.S. metal bands currently, both putting out full-lengths in 2012 on Profound Lore Records.
- These covers are virtually impossible to find and this is the first time they have appeared on vinyl. THE ATLAS MOTH covers HOORAY FOR EARTH; WOLVHAMMER covers THE CURE

INFORMATION:

Artist Hometown: San Diego, CA

Key Markets: San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Austin, New York, etc...

For Fans of: ARTHUR LYMAN, MARTIN DENNY, THE BOMBORAS, THE VENTURES, Surf, Garage, Exotica

San Diego's CREEPXOTICA combines the more exotic elements of surf music, the more surfy elements of exotica and the creepy elements of both, along with a bit of sea and jungle danger. Add in a shrunk head or two, a refreshing Mai Tai and a Zombie (not the kind you drink...) as well as numerous scantily clad go-go wahinis and you have a pretty accurate description of the twelve songs on their debut full-length Dionysus album.

A favorite of the Tiki Oasis crowd and beloved in their hometown of San Diego, CREEPXOTICA sounds just like what their name implies. Oh, and CREEPXOTICA is the alter-ego of a well-known San Diego aggro surf skater tiki garage band...

Marketing Points:

- LP comes with free digital download code
- Creepy yet seductive instrumental exotica
- Tiki oasis favorite
- Don't tell anyone-- this is actually the CREEPY CREEPS alter exotica ego!

INFORMATION:

Artist Hometown: New York City / Athens GA

Key Markets: New York City, Chicago, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Nashville

For Fans of: INTERPOL, SONIC YOUTH, THE JESUS LIZARD, TOMAHAWK, THE SECRET MACHINES, THE PIXIES, GRINDERMAN, NICK CAVE, Rock, Indie, Punk

EMPTYMANSIONS' founder/primary songwriter, SAM FOGARINO (INTERPOL) wrote most of the songs for snakes while on tour promoting INTERPOL's fourth and self-titled album, from mid 2009 to late 2011. It was after a show in Rome, Italy, that SAM and BRANDON forged a bond resulting in BRANDON taking on the role as producer and bassist for the future EMPTYMANSIONS debut record. Curtis was a part of INTERPOL's live configuration, playing keyboards on the globe-spanning run.

The eight songs that make up snakes/vultures/sulfate, EMPTYMANSIONS full-length debut, fell into the 'familiar' mode: guitar/bass/drums—unwittingly creating a true rock-sounding record. Employing the stylistically versatile DUANE DENISON (THE JESUS LIZARD, TOMAHAWK, TH' LEGENDARY SHACK SHAKERS) whose unique approach to guitar playing defies comparison or labeling, only aids in taking the rock convention of EM a few degrees to the left. At the controls, Producer BRANDON CURTIS (SECRET MACHINES, COSMICIDE, INTERPOL) possesses the production sensibilities that serve as a balance—keeping the tracks inviting, but not without leaving a bit of challenge for the listener. Along with producing, recording, and mixing snakes, Brandon also plays bass, keyboards, and sings backing vocals.

EMPTYMANSIONS is now an entity; not the just a moniker for Sam's solo work, definitely not a side project, but not exactly a band either. Time will reveal what happens next, and what sonic form EMPTYMANSIONS will take next.

Marketing Points:

- Written and performed by SAM FOGARINO of INTERPOL
- Produced by BRANDON CURTIS of THE SECRET MACHINES
- Features guitarist DUANE DENISON OF THE JESUS LIZARD & TOMAHAWK
- First 500 LP copies feature GOLD 160 gram vinyl
- Debut single "Lyra" was premiered on 1/17/13 on Spin.com— "testosterone fueled explosion of desert grind, arty slack and psych breadth"

Istanbul's REPLIKAS debut album Köledoyuran (2000) and second album Dadaruhi (2002) were released by the Ada Music label. The band's third album Avaz was produced by Wharton Tiers who is known for his work with bands such as: SONIC YOUTH, PUSSY GALORE, HELMET AND DINOSAUR JR. The album was released in May 2005 by the Doublemoon label. The band recorded their fifth album Zerre in a complex that they transformed into a studio environment, formerly a prison located in the Gökçeada Island. Peyote Music released Zerre in November 2008.

Alongside releasing albums and playing concerts, REPLIKAS wrote music for films too. The first soundtrack by the band was in 2001 for the movie "Maruf" by Serdar Akar. In 2005 the band composed music for Kutluğ Ataman's movie titled "İki Genç Kız" which won them the best film music award by SİYAD in 2006. The soundtracks were collected into an album named Film Müzikleri which was released by Pozitif in October 2006. The band took part in Fatih Akin's documentary "Crossing the Bridge"; pieces from their albums have been used in various short and feature-length movies. The sixth album Biz Burada Yok İken consists of classic Turkish psychedelic and garage covers from the 1965-75 Anatolian Pop period. Biz Burada Yok İken was released on CD in Turkey in 2012. RIFLE DIET is a heavy as fuck, in your face political hardcore/crust band from Minneapolis that features members of IN DEFENCE and GARMONBOZIA. Their music is hard-hitting and heavier than a blow from a sledgehammer. They are definitely out to make a difference in the scene. This is RIFLE'S DIET's second release and the fourth installment in the Profane Existence Limited Edition Singles Series of 2013. ### INFORMATION:

Artist Hometown: Germany

Key Markets: The World

SCANNER's 1988 debut, Hypertrace, placed the band on the right trajectory for success, but soon after its release, their vocalist quit. Quickly picking up S.L. Coe (ex-Angel Dust) to fill the vacated spot, the band forged onward with 1990's Terminal Earth. Decidedly not following the previous album's concept, Coe struck out on his own lyrically with solid tracks like "From the Dust of Ages," "Wonder," "Not Alone" and "The Law." Musically speaking, SCANNER marched forward continuing to carry the torch of power metal across the globe pushing the genre into new markets. But even with these two impressive albums in their repertoire, and the flourishing power metal scene growing so rapidly, it would seem the plague of continued member departures would spell out disaster for SCANNER when this era of the band came to a close in 1990.

Terminal Earth has been out of print for nearly 20 years, and not surprisingly, fetching high dollar collector prices online. Divebomb Records' Terminal Earth Record Store Day limited edition contains brand new mastering exclusive to this physical reissue as well as a new interview with band founder, Axel Julius. For the fans, by the fans.

Marketing Points:

INFORMATION:

Artist Hometown: Germany

Key Markets: The World

Germany could be considered the birth place for what is now known as Power Metal. Bands like HELLOWEEN, GAMMA RAY and BLIND GUARDIAN first forged this path in the '80s, but there was one band that never seemed to get their just due. SCANNER's 1988 debut concept album, Hypertrace, was as good as any album out at the time, if not better.

Conceptually speaking, Hypertrace was an intriguing tale of space travel and the bettering of humanity, while sonically it was filled to the brim with charging thunderous riffage and ear-piercing vocals (thanks to guest vocalist, Ralf Scheepers).

Despite the fact that it flew under the commercial radar, Hypertrace is still beloved by cult metal aficionados today and ripe to be discovered by legions of younger power metal fans curious of the movement's origins. Divebomb Records' Hypertrace Record Store Day limited-edition contains brand new mastering exclusive to this physical reissue as well as a new interview with band founder, Axel Julius. For the fans, by the fans.
