THE MOVE, COUNT FIVE

You think you've heard all the Australian 60's punk 45's? It's all been issued, reissued and reissued again? You'd be wrong. Happily wrong I suspect. Whilst excavating through the Festival tape archive sourcing the tapes to bring you the Black Diamonds box sets our intrepid miners happily stumbled across this: Two completely unreleased, undiscovered, undocumented SUNSETS sides for scrapped single release. May 1967 THE SUNSETS single "The Hot Generation" b/w "This Is What It's All About" (Festival FK-1818) was issued to coincide with the release of Australian surf film of the same name. Both songs being featured in the movie soundtrack.

The film was screened and scheduled for release was another single from THE SUNSETS, two more songs from the movie. THE SUNSETS "Animal" / "Uptight, Out Of Sight" (Festival FK-1895) was scheduled and prepared to be released in August 1967. August 1967 came and went. No single. Nada, zilch, zippo! Since then the sides have sat untouched in Festival tape vaults. The Blank Recording Company has happily rectified the situation and righted this wrong presenting these two stellar sides as they were intended to be enjoyed. Black vinyl 45rpm sides. First release in our swank new full colour Blank Recording Company house sleeve!

MARKETING POINTS:

- THE SUNSETS original singles are highly sought after and some of the greatest 60's garage 45's from the world over, let alone Australia
- The Hot Generation movie is one of the legendary 1960's surf films, even screened in the U.S during its original cinematic release
- Limited edition of 500

For Fans of: SAINTS, SEX PISTOLS, RAMONES, THOUGHT CRIMINALS, STOOGES

It's the conversation that's been had by many of me in this caper that is slinging records the globe over. It goes a little something like this... "Did the Psycho-Surgeons record anything else besides the solitary single?" The answer is no. Live tapes? No. Demos? No. "How are you so sure?" Asked the guitarist about it numerous times. There's nothing else! That was then...This is now. It's amazing what you find clearing through stuff. In a tape box marked to be a live recording of mid 70's blues rock housed an unlabeled quarter inch tape. Curiosity gets the better of PSYCHO-SURGEONS' guitarist, Mark Taylor, he cues it up and gives it a listen to what it may be, if anything... The penny drops. It's two tracks from a 1976 rehearsal...two original compositions. One of which later found it's way into the early Lipstick Killers set list, but that's another story and band... Long forgotten, lost, undiscovered. One short step from being binned and lost forever.. If you need a history lesson on Psycho-surgeons or Australian punk rock, this is not the place to read about it. For the uninitiated If you feel inclined to fill in the gap and learn more without breaking the budget, check out the reissue of "Wild Weekend" / "Horizontal Action" 7" on Crypt for the whole history and more, except for the 2014 post script to the story, this single. So until the discovery of a long forgotten PSYCHO-SURGEONS album, this is it: Two seven inch singles. Four blasts of punk rock. Complete the story right here.

MARKETING POINTS:

- Legendary band whose sole blood-splattered picture sleeve single is highly sought after
- Ground zero for Sydney punk rock: nothing came before
- Either side of their sole single has been compiled & bootlegged on at least a dozen compilation albums, including Killed By Death #2!

TRACK LIST:

1. Formula One Generation
2. Girls Going Crazy (For The La La La)

INFORMATION:

Artist Hometown: Utrecht, Netherlands & Los Angeles, California & Montreal, Canada

Key Markets: The world

For Fans of: POOH STICKS, VELOCITY GIRL, SHOP ASSISTANTS, BRAN VAN 3000, ROCKET

Q: What do BABES IN TOYLAND, REDD KROSS, JESUS LIZARD, POISON IDEA, NIRVANA, COWS, SHONEN KNIFE, AVENGERS, URGE OVERKILL & WEIRDOS have in common, aside from being brilliant bands? A: Releases on the Inspid Vinyl label! TRANSATLANTIC BUNNIES is the first release in over 20 years on the Inspid Vinyl label!

Former POOH STICKS guitarist (and drummer) Michel van der Woude once had the bright idea to start a virtual band with girl singers he found on My Space but had never actually met. The first singer he approached was Lauren Rocket of all girl band ROCKET (L.A.). (Go and find their CDs on Teenacide Records!) The B-side, "Girl's Going Crazy For The La La La" was written by Gregory and Van der Woude for a CD they released on U.S. label Sympathy For The Record Industry as INTERNATIONAL LANGUAGE called "Where The Bands Are". The song never made it onto the album, though. Canadian singer/songwriter Sara Johnston (MONTREAL) turned out to have the perfect voice to sing the version you find here. All the instruments on this record were played by Van der Woude, with some help from Arnold Lasseur, who played mandolin and fiddle on "Formula One Generation".

MARKETING POINTS:

- POOH STICKS, BRAN VAN 3000 & ROCKET all have had numerous international releases
- Inspid Vinyl completists will be seeking this out
- Limited edition of five hundred copies

1. MSP2
2. Blind Pigs

INFORMATION:

Artist Hometown: Burlington, VT

Key Markets: Northeast (Vermont, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Maine, Massachusetts, Rhode Island), Los Angeles, San Francisco, New York, Washington DC

For Fans of: DEATH, OFF!, JELLO BIAFRA, PISSED JEANS, BAD BRAINS, MC5, THE STOOGES

30 years after DEATH's demise, the sons of Bobby Sr; Julian, Urian, and Bobby Hackney Jr., discover the original DEATH recordings in their parent's attic. Already well steeped in the hardcore and punk scene, the young Hackneys are blown away by the raw power of their father's and uncle's music. The three sons along with friends Steve, Paul and Dylan create a tribute band to DEATH called ROUGH FRANCIS.

ROUGH FRANCIS started out covering songs from DEATH's unearthed album For the Whole World to See. After a few shows, they began to write their own music. Although the loud screams, wild stage antics and maximum volume of ROUGH FRANCIS echoes DEATH, they have also crystalized a unique sound of their own. Fueled by 70's proto-punk, Motown, the British Invasion and 80's hardcore, ROUGH FRANCIS continue to prove themselves as an overwhelmingly powerful force onstage.

ROUGH FRANCIS has been featured in the New York Times, Spin.com and Brooklyn Vegan. They have also shared stages with MOS DEF, OFF!, AGENT ORANGE, DEATH, THE JON SPENCER BLUES EXPLOSION, FISHBONE, THE DICTATORS and many others.

MARKETING POINTS:

- "MSP2" single and animated music video premiere on February 13, 2015 on Brooklyn Vegan
- Black French paper & white screen-printed jackets
- White vinyl
- Featured in the award winning documentary A Band Called Death
- Sons & nephews of the Hackney brothers/founding members of DEATH
- Press and reviews featured in the New York Times, Spin.com & Brooklyn Vegan

INFORMATION:

Artist Hometown: Porthcawl, Wales

Key Markets: New York, NY; Chicago, IL; Philadelphia, PA

For Fans of: THE MARKED MEN, THE WIPERS, EDDY CURRENT SUPPRESSION RING

TWISTED is a garage-punk band that started out as Jon Mohajer's bedroom project in Porthcawl, South Wales in 2008. When Jon packed up and moved to Leeds for university, he took TWISTED with him, and after pulling together a group of assorted miscreants (all of whom now play in HOOKWORMS), played a slew of gigs and put out a couple of 7"s in 2009 and 2010. In 2013 the relentless draw of Rest Bay's swell finally pulled Jon back home, where the reset button was hit on TWISTED and a new line up was formed with old Welsh friends; Nick Russell, Chris Thomas and Livi Sinclair. The debut LP, Utopia was recorded a stone's throw from the sea in Porthcawl, summer 2014. Utopia, a Greek word which means "there is no such place". TWISTED sings about the existential crisis in its bones. It is terrified of the tremendous force of love. It knows about being young and lost, the push and pull of pleasant towns. TWISTED is angry at street harassment and the stigmatization of mental health.

TWISTED take influence from many eras of punk's history; the lovesick guitar melodies of 70s UK punk (THE BUZZCOCKS, ELVIS COSTELLO, THE JAM) the flagellating introspection of mid-80s DC's Revolution Summer (BITES OF SPRING, GRAY MATTER, RAIN) and US dark punk (THE WIPERS, THE CRUCIFUCKS, NO TREND), the exasperated vocal of early-90s UK's HUGGY BEAR, and the postmillennial crisp-drumming garage-rage of JAY REATARD, MARKED MEN, EDDY CURRENT SUPPRESSION RING and PARQUET QUARTZ.

MARKETING POINTS:

- 1st pressing limited to 500 copies
- TWISTED previously featured most members of HOOKWORMS (Domino Records)
- Upcoming UK / Euro tour dates in support of release
