For Fans of: ZNÖWHITE, DYOXEN, POWERMAD, PANTERA, DEFIANCE

In the late-'80s, following lineup changes that found ZNÖWHITE guitarist Greg Fulton and bassist Scott Schafer joined by John Slattery on drums and powerhouse ex-Hammeron vocalist Brian Troch, a name change was imminent. Rechristened as CYCLONE TEMPLE, the group signed on with Combat Records and entered Normandy Sound in Warren, RI to track their debut album, I Hate Therefore I Am, with engineer Tom Soares.

A soulful masterpiece of thrash, I Hate Therefore I Am hit stores in 1991, and CYCLONE TEMPLE toured with a variety of acts before being unceremoniously dismissed from their label during a Sony takeover. As such, the groundbreaking creativity, intelligence, emotion, and power of I Hate Therefore I Am unjustly failed to make its mark. A frustrated Troch walked away, and CYCLONE TEMPLE soldiered on to release an EP (Building Errors in the Machine, 1993) with singer Marco Salinas, and follow-up album My Friend Lonely - with yet another frontman, Sonny DeLuca—before throwing in the towel in 1994.

But, it's never too late to have one's mind blown to bits by a criminally underrated thrash classic such as I Hate Therefore I Am, so now, over 25 years later—and for the first time since 1999—Divebomb Records is proud to make I Hate Therefore I Am once again available on CD. Remastered by Jamie King at The Basement, the disc will be packaged with a retrospective essay featuring brand new commentary from Fulton, Troch, and Slattery; plus nearly 20 reverential quotes contributed by members of AFTERMATH and SINDROME (among others), as well as authors from Decibel, Rock Hard, and many more. You'll also find a reprinted CYCLONE TEMPLE interview feature from Detonator fanzine #2, conducted in 1991. For the fans, by the fans!

A journey that begins in the magical and meditative sonics of MY BLOODY VALENTINE and HUSKER DU, incorporating a curiously wandering sense of melody, finally winding up in a long cinematic corridor of urban industrial textures. BRAINZ were a short lived Phoenix prog/punk/metal band who would morph into MIGHTY SPHINCTER a few years after this 7" arrived on the scene. The songs on this self-titled ep which was originally released in 1979 helped lay the foundation of the weirdo desert punk scene in Phoenix that spawned bands like VICTORY ACRES, SUN CITY GIRLS, and ONS. Sadly, bass player Joe Albanese was tragically murdered in a Seattle in 2012.

NIP DRIVERS could suck a dog turd through a straw and spit out a goddamn diamond. Oh Blessed Freak Show is maybe the best combination of covers and originals put out by any band from the 80s. The album oozes a type of cool unseen since Jackie Kennedy turned down Lyndon Johnson's giant cock after JFK's funeral and that says a lot. Turn it up, get down, and bliss out to the cerebral sounds of genius.
