With roots in Chicago metal outfit Deadly Legacy, LETHAL DOSE took shape when guitarist John Parks relocated to Seattle, WA and hooked up with local bassist Barry Allen. The pair eventually joined forces with drummer Bill Waters and frontman Rick Danks. Wasting no time, the quartet was already heading into Steve Lawson Productions by 1988 to track a full-length album with now legendary producer Terry Date—who at that point had already worked with the likes of METAL CHURCH, SANCTUARY, FIFTH ANGEL, etc.

The resulting 10-song, self-titled album was released later that year through Seattle-based label Ever Rat Records, cranking out just under 30 minutes of crisp and compact thrash-leaning heavy metal with unique cover art that was a deliberate effort to distance the group from generic imagery such as skulls or fire. LETHAL DOSE was able to pursue some degree of touring along the West Coast in support of the material; in addition to shows with notable locals like THE ACCÜSED, BITTER END, AND COVEN; and opening for national acts such as NAZARETH and QUIET RIOT.

A rare five-song demo, Threshold of Pain, was then recorded at the home studio of FIFTH ANGEL guitarist James Byrd, released in 1989. Sadly, LETHAL DOSE just couldn't catch a break amidst the infamously changing landscape of the Northwest music scene, struggling through a low local profile with a new vocalist until late-1992, when things finally fell apart.

Over three decades later, Divebomb Records is psyched to partner with LETHAL DOSE for the first-ever official CD reissue of LETHAL DOSE, with the Threshold of Pain recordings (sans one track, omitted per band request) tacked on as a bonus. Remastered by Jamie King Audio, the disc will be packaged with a 20-page booklet jammed with photos, flyers, and a retrospective interview with the band conducted earlier this year. For the fans, by the fans!

MARKETING POINTS:

- Mastering and restoration by Jamie King Audio
- Original recording produced by Terry Date (METAL CHURCH, SANCTUARY, FIFTH ANGEL)
- Sourced from band's archived master audio reels
- First time on CD
- Contains 4 bonus track from rare, final "Threshold Of Pain" demo cassette
- Thick booklet with never-before-seen photos, band interview and other classic memorabilia
- Limited Edition

SILENCE

Vision (Deluxe Edition), CD

Street Date: February 10, 2023

ARTIST HOMETOWN: Vienna, VA

KEY MARKETS: Worldwide Metal Community

FOR FANS OF: EXHORDER, STYGIAN, DARK ANGEL,
PRIMAL SCREAM NYC,
DEMOLITION HAMMER, SOLSTICE

Cult northern Virginia thrashers SILENCE got their start under the name of NECROSIS circa 1987, releasing a three-song demo the following year. Minor lineup shifts found guitarists Sonny Mayo and Louie Denslow with vocalist Ben Gaither eventually joined by Jason Robinson on bass and John Mayes behind the kit, resurfacing as SILENCE in 1990 with the six-song Intense Thrash Metal demo. Recorded by Steve Carr (Government Issue, Indestroy, etc.) at Hit and Run Studios, said material would be slightly tweaked and re-released later in the year as Echoes of Damnation—alongside a more mature visual aesthetic representative of the quality of the band's output.

The following year, SILENCE self-released their long-awaited debut album, Vision, on CD and cassette—offering an hour's worth of taut, crunchy East Coast thrash metal with scorching leads. The group continued performing live and forging friendships with other locals such as CHEMIKILL, SKELETON, and future legends DECEASED; as well as opening for national headliners like SCATTERBRAIN, FLOTSAM AND JETSAM, and a coveted slot ahead of PANTERA promoting Cowboys From Hell in late-1990.

Around 1992, SILENCE recorded three final songs with Alex Perialas (ANTHRAX, NUCLEAR ASSAULT, OVERKILL, etc.) and WRATHCHILD AMERICA bassist/vocalist Brad Divens at Pyramid Sound Studios. Unfortunately, few outside the band ever got to hear the material, as the seams were starting to come unglued. Mayo had been jamming with M.F. PITBULLS—a side project of WRATHCHILD AMERICA drummer Shannon Larkin—and general tensions amongst the members of SILENCE ultimately closed the door on future opportunities.

Over 30 years later, the original pressing of Vision has become quite collectible—even falling victim to the bootleg market—so Divebomb Records is excited to finally present this official expanded edition. Adding to the album the sought-after Pyramid Sound recordings, the 12-song disc has been fully remastered by Jamie King Audio. The CD will be housed alongside a 20-page booklet including photos, lyrics, and a new interview with SILENCE conducted in May of 2022. For the fans, by the fans!

MARKETING POINTS:

- Mastering and audio restoration by Jamie King Audio
- Contains 3 bonus tracks from rare, final Pyramid Sound Studio demo cassette
- 3 demo tracks produced by Alex Perialas (TESTAMENT, METALLICA, EXCITER, OVERKILL, ANTHRAX, S.O.D., etc)

FALLEN ANGEL

Faith Fails (Deluxe Edition), CD

Street Date: February 10, 2023

ARTIST HOMETOWN: OREBRO, SWEDEN

KEY MARKETS: Worldwide Metal Community

FOR FANS OF: METALLICA, APOCALYPSE, STATUE, TESTAMENT, STONE, PARADOX, SLAMMER, XENTRIX

Lesser-known thrashers FALLEN ANGEL formed in Örebro, Sweden during the late-'80s, founded by vocalist/guitarist Johan Bülow and drummer Fredrik Linden. The group debuted with a five-song demo in 1988, rumored to have been issued in as little as 30 copies, before—having secured Joacim Persson (guitar) and Gustaf Ljungström (bass)—recording the four-song Hang-Over demo at Eagle One Studios in 1989. One track from Hang-Over, “Etanolic Intoxication,” appeared on a four-way split 7” with APPENDIX, NIRVANA 2002, and AUTHORIZE the following year; after which—with new bassist Matte Hedenborg in tow—the quartet returned to Eagle One to track a seven-song EP, which they self-released on 12” vinyl in 1991.

FALLEN ANGEL eventually secured a deal with Germany’s Massacre Records for the release of their lone full-length, Faith Fails, in 1992. The 10-song album marked a significant step up in quality for presenting the band’s tight and aggressive thrash metal, with subtle technical flare and fluidly melodic underpinnings. Having performed live alongside Swedish legends such as ENTOMBED and CANDLEMASS, as well as cult acts like TRIBULATION and KAZJUROL, amongst numerous others, FALLEN ANGEL unfortunately found that just as they were hitting their stride, thrash metal was falling “out of style,” with death metal and grunge beginning to strangle the scene. Members went their separate ways, and Faith Fails would quietly become an underrated gem heralded by diehard thrash fanatics.

At long last, 30 years later, Divebomb Records is thrilled to finally shed new light on FALLEN ANGEL with an official CD reissue of Faith Fails, plus 1989’s Hang-Over demo as a bonus. Fully remastered by Jamie King Audio, the disc will be packaged alongside a 16-page booklet packed with lyrics and photos. For the fans, by the fans!

SYSTEMATIC DEATH

Systema Eleven, 7"EP/CDEP

Street Date: February 10, 2023

ARTIST HOMETOWN: TOKYO, JAPAN

KEY MARKETS: Japan, Germany, USA

FOR FANS OF: DEATHSIDE, NIGHTMARE,
LIP CREAM, TRAGEDY

SYSTEMATIC DEATH need no introduction to fans of the classic Japanese hardcore mayhem that has erupted from that country since punk first found its footing there in the 80's. Straight out of the gate, from their first self-released EP in 1984, through their next blistering EP's on legendary early Japanese hardcore labels Hold Up and Selfish Records, culminating in the ultra-classic "Final Insider" LP released in 1987, this band has set the standard for Japanese thrash ever since. This new release brings 5 new classics. Unmatched in speed and intensity, and screaming with anger and hope, Systema Eleven shows SYSTEMATIC DEATH still wreaking havoc, and forever a force to be reckoned with.

MARKETING POINTS:

- Beautiful cover art by legendary punk artist Sugi
- First new material from this band in 5 years
- Vinyl and CD limited to 500 copies

ENDORPHINS LOST

Night People, LP

Street Date: February 10, 2023

ARTIST HOMETOWN: Seattle, Washington
KEY MARKETS: Seattle, California, Oregon
FOR FANS OF: INFEST, DISRUPT, DYSTOPIA, ACXDC

After several tours, multiple full lengths, numerous EP's and splits, ENDORPHINS LOST really just continues to push the boundaries of the extreme. Night People is the third long play from this Pacific Northwest quintet, and quite possibly their best offering yet. Nineteen minutes at 45rpm of pure grinding power violence focusing the narrative on human enforced suffering, self-induced stress, and mind scarring atrocities. ENDORPHINS LOST are not to be overlooked. FFO all things unholy.

MARKETING POINTS:

- Third full length
- Falls into crust, sludge, and powerviolence genres
- Long awaited new LP
